

Pikes Peak State College Application FAQs

Application Troubleshooting

Q: I've been locked out of my account. How can I reset my password?

A: Contact our main office for a password reset by emailing Admissions@PikesPeak.edu or calling (719)-502-2000.

Q: I attended Pikes Peak State College prior to 2015 and I can't login to my application account. What should I do?

A: If you attended prior to 2015, you do not have an application account. Please create a new account as though you were a new student.

Q: I applied, and my residency determination is incorrect. How can I request a correction to my residency determination?

A: For information on how to update or correct your residency determination, please visit our Residency Webpage.

Q: I realized that I want to choose a different major than what I selected on my application. How can I update my major?

A: Please submit a change of major form with our Registrar's Office. Submitting a new application will not update your major.

General Application Questions

Q: How do I apply?

A: Complete the online Pikes Peak State College application. New applicants should create an account and complete a new application. Returning applicants should log into their account and continue or complete a new application.

Q: Can I defer my application/start term?

A: You can defer your enrollment for up to three semesters without submitting a new application. If you apply to Pikes Peak State and do not enroll in classes within three semesters and receive grades, then you will need to resubmit a new application. Summer term counts as an active term/semester.

Q: Can I apply on my family member or friend's account?

A: No. Students must apply under their own account.

Admissions Requirements

Q: What are Pikes Peak State College's admission requirements?

Pikes Peak State has an open-admission policy. Keep in mind that:

- Students of all ages, including those younger than 17 years old, will be admitted to Pikes Peak State College.
- Students who are under 17 years old who want to self-pay for college classes (without school district financial sponsorship) will need to demonstrate college readiness through an academic assessment and will need to meet with the High School Programs office be approved to take classes; there will be a registration hold on your account until you meet with High School Programs.

- Current high school students who are taking college classes through Concurrent Enrollment and therefore financially sponsored by a school district must follow the district's policies and timelines for college course registration.
- Any student who is high school-aged, including homeschool students, should contact High School Programs for more information.

Keep in mind that admission to Pikes Peak State does not ensure acceptance into any specific program and F-1 international students must qualify for an I-20

Q: Are there certain programs that have additional application requirements?

A: Yes. Certain AAS and bachelor programs are considered "Selective Admission" and require additional materials and documentation for admission. Please contact the specific academic department to review any potential selective admission program requirements that may exist.

Q: Is there an English language requirement?

A: International Students (F-1 Visa) should visit the International Student website to learn more about required English language proficiency.

If you need to take English as a Second Language (ESL) courses, learn more about our ESL classes.

Q: How do I get an I-20 as an international student?

A: Please visit our International Student website to learn more about the I-20 application process and how to become an international student at Pikes Peak State.
